Charles Taylor offers an alternative solution to other providers

Our global reach, local knowledge and technical expertise enable us to achieve maximum medical improvement for claimants and maximum cost containment for insurance carriers – without compromise.

Dedicated professional claims handlers

Our expert panel of claims handling agents ensures that processing, verification, settlement and communication with the insured are efficiently and effectively reached.

Unrivalled in-house medical expertise

Our in-house doctors and nurses ensure that every claimant's medical needs are met 24/7/365. They are supported by multilingual assistance coordinators, speaking 32 languages.

Complete transparency, from compliance to audit

Our highly-experienced, dedicated compliance and regulatory teams work closely with clients to ensure the highest standards of corporate governance.

Bespoke cost containment to meet your needs

Our supply chain management experts work closely with our medical teams to provide bespoke global cost containment; tailored to clients' individual needs. Directional care, established discounts, reciprocal billing agreements and invoice assessments are all part of the course. We also benchmark costs, carry out on-site audits and due diligence checks and work with the Astrum Assistance Alliance to access the most competitive prices. And we provide transparent MI and reporting to clients.

Robust global fraud investigation saving time and money

Our claims validation experts ensure that every questionable claim is scrutinized and investigated on the ground if necessary - wherever it originates in the world. We think that getting the facts right, surveilling the scene and providing validatory reports are all important. We leave no stone unturned.

A flexible approach supporting the needs of our clients

Thanks to our award-winning in-house claims management teams and state-of-the-art technology, we can manage catastrophic claims and fluctuating claims volumes, without compromising service.
